

The Dragon Kings

A Chinese Myth

9 The Dragon Kings live in gorgeous palaces in the 19 depths of the sea, where they feed on pearls and 28 opals. There are five of these divine creatures; the 39 chief is in the centre and the other four live in 48 the north, the west, the south and the east.

57 Each is incredibly long and so bulky that they 64 throw one mountain against another when they
73 move. Each creature has five feet (one of them 84 being in the middle of its belly) and each foot is 93 armed with five sharp claws. They can reach into 100 the heavens and stretch themselves into all
109 quarters of the sea. They have a glowing armour
118 of yellow scales, a beard under their long snout,
124 a hairy tail and fluffy legs.

Questions

1. Find and copy an adjective used to describe the Dragon Kings' armour.

2. Which two things do the Dragon Kings feed on?

3. Do you think the Dragon Kings are loved or feared? Explain your choice.

4. Compare one way in which the Dragon Kings are similar to another creature you know.

The Dragon Kings

A Chinese Myth

9 The Dragon Kings live in gorgeous palaces in the 19 depths of the sea, where they feed on pearls and 28 opals. There are five of these divine creatures; the 39 chief is in the centre and the other four live in 48 the north, the west, the south and the east.

57 Each is incredibly long and so bulky that they 64 throw one mountain against another when they
73 move. Each creature has five feet (one of them 84 being in the middle of its belly) and each foot is 93 armed with five sharp claws. They can reach into 100 the heavens and stretch themselves into all
109 quarters of the sea. They have a glowing armour
118 of yellow scales, a beard under their long snout,
124 a hairy tail and fluffy legs.

Answers

1. Find and copy an adjective used to describe the Dragon Kings' armour.

Accept: glowing; yellow

2. Which two things do the Dragon Kings feed on?

Accept: pearls; opals.

3. Do you think the Dragon Kings are loved or feared? Explain your choice.

Accept either answer providing that an explanation is given, e.g. 'I think they are feared because they are armed with sharp claws.'

4. Compare one way in which the Dragon Kings are similar to another creature you know.

Pupils' own responses, such as: The Dragon Kings are like werewolves because they have sharp claws and hairy legs.